

Susan Chadwick, PE

schadwick@facadegroup.com

Susan has over 15 years of extensive experience in the field of civil engineering, including land development design, environmental remediation, and construction oversight. Her experience includes managing multiple projects concurrently while coordinating with architects, developers, and contractors in all aspects of a project, from design to construction. She brings her technical background and experience as a project manager with her to The Facade Group with a change in focus from land to building.

Susan is currently functioning as the Contract Manager for the Philadelphia office, while also assisting the consultant team with project related tasks. She is a versatile team player and is loving the new challenge of applying her engineering knowledge to building science and the industry of enclosure consulting, while also enhancing her structural engineering skills. Her diverse engineering background and natural curiosity bring a unique perspective to The Facade Group team.
